

PRODUCT FEATURE:

Mounts and Accessories

Ealing offers a wide range precise opto-mechanical components and accessories designed specifically with photonics applications in mind.

Mirror and Component Mounts

Ealing's mirror mounts and component mounts have been in the hands of researchers and manufactures for 50 years. We offer mounts for mirrors, lenses, prisms, pinholes, apertures, filters, polarizers, iris, and lasers. The mounts come in UltraPrecise™, Precise™, kinematic, fixed, self centering, stackable, compact, TopAdjust™, sliding grip, filter wheels, rectangular apertures, variable angle, 4-axis and v-block.

Mounting Hardware

Ealing offers the following items for all your mounting requirements: mounting rods, rod carriers, rod mounting platforms, StablePillar™ pedestals, extenders, clamps, carriers, thread adapters, posts, post holders, and mounting bases. This is just a sample of what comes in many variations for all your requirements.

Optical Tables, Breadboards, and Rails

Optical tables and breadboard LaserTop™ construction offer superior performance with sizes ranging from 1'x2' up to 5'x12' in 12", 8" and 2" thicknesses. In addition, we offer pneumatic isolators and table leveling stands for LaserTop™ tables. Also available are aluminum plate breadboards in both inch and metric versions.

As all of our products, Ealing's optical rails have evolved over time due to enhanced materials and processes allowing greater precision. With this, we are proud to offer the following lines of optical rails: MiniMech™ 19mm, TriRail™, and low profile. All have unique carriers allowing multiple setups and mounting configurations.

All of Ealing's mounts, hardware, tables, and rails are compatible and interchangeable. The configurations are limitless, which is why Ealing will be pleased to provide you with a special quotation to meet any of your OEM requirements.
